He was transferred to this Project called Care for environment on 03-10-1992 where he did the clerical work of photocopy, dispatching, maintenance of files and other clerical work and he was paid Rs. 1600 per month.

The workman worked from 22-04-1992 to 14-07-1995 in New Delhi, 15-07-1995 to 30-08-1995 at Mysore and 04-08-1995 to 15-09-1995 at New Delhi and 16-09-1996 to 17-01-1996 at Bhopal. He has completed 240 days in the last 12 calendar months preceding the date of illegal termination i.e. 18-01-1996, so he is entitled to protection of Section 25 F of the ID Act, 1947. Juniors were retained while terminating the services of this workman. The workman is entitled to regularization of his services according to the government circulars he was not paid retrenchment compensation and one month's pay in lieu of notice.

The case of the management is that the requirement of a workman was absolutely temporary and the workman was kept as one of the waterman absolutely on daily wages w.e.f. 24-04-1992 for a period of three months. It has been falsely stated that the workman worked continuously from 22-04-1992 to 18-01-1996. He may have worked in time bond project entitled Care for Environments belonging to the Ministry of Environment and Forest. It was housed in the building where the management is also housed. He worked at Project. Sh. Ram Kishan was also engaged on Project as daily wager.

He moved CAT for regular appointment which was rejected. The workman was never in regular service. There was no question of giving him retrenchment compensation and one month's pay in lieu of notice. He worked only for 4 months 25 days in 1992, 5 months 6 days in 1995-1996 after a gap of 3 years. The circular of GOI enacted, it is not for any implication to the working of this workman and does not entitle him to any other benefit which was admissible to the regular employees.

The workman applicant has filed rejoinder. In the rejoinder he has reiterated the averments of his claim statement and has denied most of the paras of the written statement. The management has also denied most of the paras of the claim statement.

Evidence of both the parties has been taken.

Heard argument from both the sides and perused the papers on the record.

It was submitted from the side of the workman that he was engaged continuously from 22-04-1992 to 18-01-1996 and he discharged the duties of Class - IV employee. He was also transferred to Mysore and Bhopal. He worked regularly for four years.

The workman has filed document WW/2 OM dated 10-09-1993 and it has been mentioned in this circular that the casual labour should be given temporary status. This circular relates to M/o. Personnel and Pension Department. Document WW/5 is the office order dated 06-05-1992. He was engaged by order dated 06-05-1992 from 24-04-1992 to 23-07-1993. By order dated 28th July, 1992 he was given engagement from 24-07-1992 to 23-10-1992. By office order dated 03-10-1992 WW/9 the workman was engaged from 30-10-1992 to 22-01-1993. A certificate has been issued by the management vide order dated 13-07-1994. It has been certified that the workman has worked from 03-10-1992 to 31-08-1993 for the work of photocopying, dispatching letters, filing other related work, it is WW/9.

By office order dated 02-09-1995, the workman was engaged from 10-08-1995 to 09-10-1995. Payment to him has been made for September, 1995. He has worked from 01-09-1995 onwards and he worked up to November, 1995.

The workman has not filed any other document. These documents establish that the workman has worked continuously from 24-04-1992 to 31-08-1993 and he has worked continuously from 01-01-1995 to 10-01-1996. He has not filed any document regarding his engagement after 31-08-1993. He has not been assigned any work in the year 1994 and after 31-08-1993.

The documents further establish that he has worked from 01-01-1995 to 10-01-1996, so the workman has worked for more than 240 days in between 1992 to 1993 and 1995 to 1996. He has not been given any engagement in the year 1994.

From perusal of the record it becomes quite obvious that the management has given him extension as per the sanction order of the competent authority. Approval for engagement was obtained from the competent authority and payment was made accordingly. He was engaged from 22-04-1992 to 23-07-1992, 24-07-1992 to 23-10-1992 and 03-10-1992 to 31-08-1993 and at the time of every engagement approval of competent authority was sought. Money was sanctioned and payment to him was made. So the workman has not worked as a casual labour or muster roll employee. He has been engaged as daily wager as per the exigencies of work on Project.

The workman again being engaged in the year 1995-1996 for temporary work on Project. His entire engagement was on Project and it was for specific period. It is true that he has worked for more than 240 days in 1992-1993 and 1995-1996 but he has not worked continuously from 22-04-1992 to 10-01-1996. He has been given break of four months in 1993 and one year in 1994. He was again engaged in January, 1995. So he has been engaged against sanctioned work for temporary nature of work. He performed the work on Project which is a temporary nature of work. The work performed by him is not permanent or perennial in nature. The National Museum carries on systematic activities. There is employee and employer relationship between the management and the workman. There is employer and employee relationship, so it is an Industry in view of the Hon'ble Supreme Court's judgment in Bangalore Water Supply. The management was duty bound to make payment of retrenchment compensation and one month's pay in lieu of notice.

It has been held in (2007) 9 Supreme Court Cases 353 as under :—

“Labour Law-Industrial Disputes Act, 1947-S.25 -F-Relief to be given for violation of - Grant of compensation instead of reinstatement with full back wages-When warranted - Workman appointed as daily wager, working for only a short period, raising industrial dispute almost six years after dismissal, and there being question as to the whether his appointment had been made in terms of the statutory rules in the first place - Held, relief of reinstatement with full back wages would not be granted automatically only because it would be lawful to do so - Several factors have to be considered, two of them being as to whether appointment in question had been made in terms of the statutory rules, and the delay in raising the industrial dispute - In present case, keeping in view the nature and period of services, and the delay in raising the industrial dispute, award of reinstatement with back wages substituted by compensation of Rs.75, 000.

It has been held by the Hon'ble Apex Court that it is not, necessary that Tribunal should always pass the order of reinstatement if the work is not existing and the work is not of permanent and regular nature and if section 25 F of the ID Act is violated, appropriate order is the order for compensation.

In the facts and circumstances of the case the workman is entitled to compensation of Rs. 50, 000 (Rs. Fifty Thousand Only) in lieu of retrenchment compensation and one month's pay in lieu of notice.

The reference is replied thus:

The action of the management of National Museum of Natural History, New Delhi in terminating the services of Sh. Sri Kumar, Helper w.e.f. 18-01-1996 is neither absolutely legal nor justified. The management should pay the claimant Rs. 50,000 (Rs. Fifty Thousand Only) in lieu of retrenchment compensation and one month's pay in lieu of notice within two months from the date of the publication of the award.

The award is given accordingly.

AWARD

The Ministry of Labour by its letter No. L-42012/50/96-IR(DU) Central Government Dt. 23-5-1997 has referred the following point for adjudication:

The point runs as hereunder :—

“Whether the action of the management of CPWD Director General, CPWD, New Delhi in terminating the services of Sh. Pramod Kumar S/o. Sh. Jhandu Ram, Driver w.e.f. 1-8-1993 is just, fair and legal? If not, what relief the concerned workman is entitled to and from what date.”

The case of the workman is that he was engaged as Motor Lorry Driver/Tanker Driver on work order basis by Dy. Director (Horticulture), PWD w.e.f. 15-11-1991. The management terminated the services of this workman w.e.f. 1-8-1993 without paying any compensation, notice pay, Gratuity etc. and without holding any proper inquiry. The workman was paid minimum wages whereas the workman was entitled to equal pay for equal work in the time scale of Rs. 950—1500 as per the order of the Hon'ble Supreme Court dated 17-1-1986.

The workman has completed more than 240 days in every year of his employment. His services have been illegally terminated without paying him retrenchment compensation and pay in lieu of notice.

The case of the management is that, the workman was not an employee of the department. He worked on work order basis as a contractor w.e.f. 15-11-1991. The work order is a form of contract which terminates automatically on completion of work or its period. There is no provision or rule by which the agency/contractor working on work order is entitled for notice pay, gratuity etc. The workman is not entitled for equal pay for equal work as his engagement was on contract basis. There was no master and servant relationship between the management and the workman.

The workman applicant has filed rejoinder. In the rejoinder he has reiterated the averments of his claim statement and has denied most of the paras of the written statement. The management has also denied most of the paras of the claim statement.

Evidence of both the parties has been taken.

Heard and perused the written briefs and the papers on the record.

From perusal of the pleadings of the parties the following issues arise for adjudication:

1. Whether the workman applicant has completed 240 days work during the tenure of his employment and whether there is employer and employee relationship between the management and the workman?
2. Whether the claimant is workman in view of Section 2(s) of the ID Act, 1947?
3. Whether the claimant is entitled to reinstatement/regularization?

4. Whether the workman applicant is entitled to Equal Pay for Equal Work?

5. To what amount of back wages the workman is entitled?

ISSUE No.1

The management has admitted that the workman was engaged w.e.f. 15-11-1991 as Motor Lorry Driver on contract basis and his services were terminated on 1-8-1993 without payment of any retrenchment compensation or pay in lieu of notice.

It was further submitted that the workman worked under the control and direction of the management. He was assigned duties by the management as regular employee.

It was submitted from the side of the management that he was an independent contractor. He discharged his duties as per the terms of the contract. It has not been denied that the workman did not perform 240 days work from the day of his initial engagement.

From perusal of these photocopies it becomes quite obvious that the workman have worked under the control and supervision of the management. The management has decided what is to be done and how it is to be done.

It is settled law that for personnel nature of work engagement of contract labour is prohibited as per section 10(4) of the CLRA Act, 1970.

In case a workman engaged as contractor, worked under the supervision and control of the management he becomes an employee of the management. It has been held in (1992) 4 SCC 118: Regularization - Ad hoc/Temporary govt. employees - Principles laid down - Those eligible and qualified and continuing in service satisfactorily for long period have a right to be considered for regularization - Long continuance in service gives rise to a presumption about need for a regular post - But mere continuance for one year or so does not in every case raise such a presumption - Govt. should consider feasibility of regularization having regard to the particular circumstances with a positive approach and an empathy for the concerned person.

It has been held in 1997 AIR SCW Page 430 that the industrial adjudicator should decide whether there is valid contract or it is a mere ruse/camouflage and if it is found that the contractor is only a name lender the management should be directed to regularize the workmen. In JT 2003 (1) SC 465—the Hon'ble Supreme Court has held that industrial adjudication is appropriate remedy for the alleged contract workers. In (2000) 1 SCC 126—the Hon'ble Supreme Court has held that there are multiple pragmatic approach/factors which should be considered in deciding employer and employee relationship. According to the criteria there should be control and integration. The management has doubtless control over the alleged workmen as they worked in the establishment of the management. They are integrated to the service of the management. The creation of contract labour is absolutely sham and camouflage and the employer should be relieved of his liabilities.

In Pollock Law of Torts, a servant and an independent contractor has been defined as under:

The distinction between a servant and an independent contractor has been the subject matter of a large volume of case-law from which the text-book writers on torts have attempted to lay down some general tests.

For example, in Pollock's Law of Torts, (Pages 62 & 63 of Pollock on Torts, 11th Edn.) the distinction has been brought out as under:

"A master is one who not only prescribes to the workman the end of his work, but directly or at any moment may direct the means also, or, as it has been put, retains the power of controlling the work; a servant is a person subject to the command of his master as to the manner in which he shall do his work. An independent contractor is one who undertakes to produce a given result but so that in the actual execution of the work is not under the control or control of the person for whom he does it, and may use his own discretion in things not specified before hand."

In Salmond's Treatise on the Law of Torts, the distinction between a servant and independent contractor has been indicated as under:

What then, is the test of this distinction between a servant and an independent contractor? The test is the existence of a right of control over the agent in respect of the manner in which his work is to be done. A servant is an agent who works under the supervision and direction of his employer; an independent contractor is one who is his own master. A servant is a person engaged to obey the employer's orders from time to time; an independent contractor is a person engaged to do certain work, but to exercise his own discretion as to the mode and time of doing it—he is bound by his contract, but not by his employer's orders.

The test regarding independent contractor and intermediaries have been laid down in Hussainabai Calicut V. the Alath Factory Thezhilam Union Kozhikode [AIR 1976 SC 1410 (3 Judges)] the true test may, with brevity, be indicated once again. Where a worker or group of workers labours to produce goods or services and these goods or services are for the business of another, that other is, in fact, the employer. He has economic control over the workers subsistence, skill, and continued employment. If he, for any reason, chokes off the worker is virtually laid off. The presence of intermediate contractors, with whom the workers have immediate or direct relationship as contract is of no consequence when, on lifting the veil or looking at the conspectus of factors governing employment, we discern the naked truth, though draped in different perfect paper arrangement, that the real employer is the management, not the immediate contractor. Myriad devices, half-hidden in fold after fold of legal form depending on the degree of concealment needed, the type of industry, the local conditions and the like may be resorted to when labour legislation casts welfare obligations on the real employer, based on Articles 38, 39, 42, 43 and 43-A of the Constitution. The Court must be astute to avoid the mischief and achieve the purpose of the law and not be misled by the maya of legal appearances."

This case law has been affirmed by the Constitution Bench Judgment in Steel Authority of India.

My attention was drawn to another Constitution Bench Judgment - Steel Authority of India. It has been held as under: —

"Where a workman is hired in or in connection with the work of an establishment by the principal employer through contractor, he merely acts as an agent so there will be, master and servant relationship between the principal employer and the workmen. But where a workman is hired in or in connection with the work of an establishment by a contractor, either because he has undertaken to produce a given result for the establishment or because he supplies workmen for any work of the establishment, a question may arise whether the contract is a mere camouflage as in Hussainabhai Calicut's case (supra) and in Indian Petrochemicals Corporation's case (supra) etc; if the answer is in the affirmative, the workman will be in fact an employee of the principal employer, but if the answer is in the negative, the workman will be a contract labourer."

In the instant case the workman has not been hired in connection with the work of a contractor but he has been hired by the management for the work of the respondents. So in the instant case there is contract of service between the principal employer and the workmen.

The Constitution Bench Judgment of Steel Authority of India is squarely applicable in the instant case. In JT 2001 (7) SC 268 it has been held that "121 (5) on issuance of prohibition notification under Section 10(1) of the CLRA Act prohibiting employment of Contract Labour or otherwise, in an industrial dispute brought IOC before it by any contract labour in regard to conditions of service, the industrial adjudicator will have to consider the question whether the contractor has been interposed either on the ground of having undertaken to produce any given result for the establishment or for supply of contract labour for work of the establishment under a genuine contract or is a mere ruse/ camouflage to evade compliance with various beneficial legislations so as to deprive the workers of the benefit thereunder. If the contract is found to be not genuine but a mere camouflage, the so-called contract labour will have to be treated as employees of the principal employer who shall be directed to regularize the services of the contract labour in the establishment concerned."

It has been held in this case that whether there is prohibition of contract labour or otherwise the industrial adjudicator will have to consider the question and in case the contract appears ruse and camouflage to evade compliance with various beneficial legislations the so called contract labour will have to be treated as the employee of the principal employer and he shall be directed to regularize the services of the contract workers.

The workman has worked under the control and supervision of the management. He has not been supplied by any other contractor. There is no contract agreement as per the provisions of the CLRA Act, 1970. The workman performed regular nature of work. He was engaged by the management and he worked according to their directions. He received monthly payment from the management.

In the facts and circumstances of the case there is master and servant relationship between the management and the workman and the workman has completed 240 days in every year of their employment as per even the admission of MW 1 in his cross-examination. Thus, he has served the management for 240 days every year during the tenure of his employment. There is master and servant relationship between the management and the workman. This issue is decided accordingly.

It was submitted from the side of the management that the workman is an independent contractor.

My attention was drawn to the judgment of Hon'ble Delhi High Court WP(C) No.7032 of 2005. The Hon'ble Court has placed the reliance on the circular dated 20-03-1993. The workmen worked under the direction of the Engineer Incharge. In the above circular the management directed the authorities of CPWD to send the list of such daily rated muster roll workers engaged on hand receipt or work order or any other basis defining the existing Government instructions ensuring inter alia termination of services of all such workers who have not completed 240 days services in two consecutive years. The probable demand requiring appointment of such workers may also be intimated to this Directorate. As such in the circular of 1993 a complete ban was imposed on engagement of workmen on work order or hand receipt and it was also directed that the list of those workers who have completed 240 days of services should also be intimated to the directorate. The Hon'ble High Court held that the workers engaged on work order basis shall also be daily rated workers and provisions of Section 25-F of the I.D. Act, 1947 would be attracted.

The claimant has been continuously engaged on work order basis. He worked under the direction of the management. The management decided what was to be done and how was it to be done. The time and mode of work was decided by the management.

In the circumstances the claimant is a workman in view of section 2 (s) of the I.D. Act, 1947.

This issue is decided accordingly.

ISSUE NO. 3.

It was submitted from the side of the management that even if it is found that there is direct relation of employer and employee the workman may be given compensation in lieu of reinstatement.

It was submitted from the side of the workman that compensation is payable in cases where an undertaking as become sick or it has been closed or it is in economic loss. It has not been established that the respondent is in economic loss and it is a sick Industry.

My attention was drawn by the Ld. Counsel of the workman to 2000 LLR 523 State of UP and Rajender Singh. The Hon'ble Apex Court ordered for reinstatement with full back wages as the services of the daily wager cleaner who worked for 4 years was dispensed with without following the procedure for retrenchment. In the instant case also no retrenchment compensation has been paid.

It has been held in 1978 Lab IC 1668 that in case service of a workman is terminated illegally the normal rule is to reinstate him with full back wages.

My attention was further drawn to AIR 2002 SC 1313. The Hon'ble Supreme Court has held that daily wager even if serving for a short period should be reinstated.

It was submitted from the side of the workman that in the instant case Sections 25 E, G of the ID Act are attracted. In section 25 of the ID Act it has been provided that if a workman has performed 240 days work and if the work is of continuous and regular nature he should be given pay in lieu of notice and retrenchment compensation.

It has been held by the Hon'ble Apex Court that there is no cessation of service in case provisions of section 25 F are not complied. In the instant case no compensation has been paid to the workman.

In case a workman has worked for 240 days in a year and the work is of continuous and regular nature he should be paid retrenchment compensation. In case retrenchment compensation is not paid section 25 F of the ID Act is attracted. There is no cessation of his services. He is deemed continued in service in the eye of law. In case there is breach of section 25 F the service is continued and reinstatement follows as a natural consequence.

ID Act, 1947 has been enacted to safeguard the interest of the workmen belonging to poor segment of society. It appears that legislature wanted that such workmen should not be harassed unnecessarily so section 25 F, U, T and Clause 10 of Vth Schedule have been enacted. The objects and reasons of ID Act, 1947 shows that the respondent should not be permitted to indulge in any unfair labour practice. The workmen should not be engaged for years and then they should be removed all of a sudden. There is provision of retrenchment compensation for his removal. Retrenchment compensation is for compensating him otherwise so that he can survive long interregnum of unemployment. In the instant case no retrenchment compensation has been paid.

It was submitted from the side of the management that the Hon'ble Apex Court in 2006 (4) Scale has put down a complete ban on regularization and reinstatement. The Hon'ble Apex Court has held that employment can only be made on the basis of procedure established in that behalf envisaged by the Constitution. Equality of opportunity is the hallmark and the Constitution enshrines affirmative action to ensure that unequals are not treated equals. So public employment should be in terms of constitutional scheme.

It was further submitted that the Constitution Bench Judgment has afforded a right according to which the government is not precluded from making temporary appointments or engaging workers on daily wages.

The Government has got no licence to make always appointment of daily wagers and to continue them for life time. Fixed term tenure appointments and temporary appointments cannot be the rule of public employment. At the time of making temporary appointments Articles 14, 16, 21, 23, 226 & 309 are infringed. There is no constitutional mandate that the government is at liberty to go on giving fixed term appointments for the entire tenure of service of an employee.

The Government or Public Sector units cannot continue incessantly to give temporary and fixed term appointments again and again. Since fixed term appointments and temporary appointments are not governed by any constitutional scheme, such discrimination will amount to vicious discretion. The Government of Public Sector unit will go on resorting to the method of pick and choose policy and give temporary and adhoc appointments to their favourites and thus the principles of equality enshrined in the constitution will be given a go bye. Such is not the intent of the Hon'ble Apex Court. However, in this judgment the provisions of the ID Act governing the services of the workman have not been declared un-constitutional. Reinstatement is the remedy provided in the ID Act for breach of several provisions enumerated therein or for breach of service rules provided in various labour welfare legislations.

A three Judges' bench of the Hon'ble Apex Court has held in 1993-II-LLJ that termination of services affects the livelihood of not only of the employee but also of the dependents. So in case of illegal termination of service the workman should be reinstated.

It was submitted from the side of the management that the appointment of the workman is not in terms of statutory rules. The management is still engaging casual labours. There are statutory rules for engagement of casual labours and they are given temporary status after sometime, it cannot be said that the management is not still engaging casual labours. There is rule for engagement of casual labours in CPWD.

There is no delay in raising the dispute. There is still work of casual labours with the management. The management has not denied that there is no work for casual labours. This workman has worked for two years as casual labour under the control and supervision of the management. Such type of work is still being carried out by the management. So the case law cited above is not applicable in the facts and circumstances of the case.

Reinstatement should not be misconceived as regularization. By the order of reinstatement the status quo ante of the workman is restored. He is given back wages in order to compensate him for his illegal dis-engagement. This is a special remedy provided in ID Act and it has not been annulled and set aside by any judgment of the Hon'ble Apex Court. The provisions of the ID Act are still constitutional and they are to be given effect too.

In case the workman is reinstated with back wages the respondents have every right, after payment of back wages and reinstatement, to retrench him validly following the principles of first come last go so that Section 25G & H of the ID Act are not violated.

It has been held in 2008 Lab IC page 783 by the Hon'ble Apex Court that reinstatement does not mean confirmation. Reinstatement of daily wager could be illegal. Direction given for his reinstatement being final such order would not necessarily entitle him to claim benefits of permanency.

In view of the judgement of the Hon'ble Apex Court reinstatement does not imply confirmation/ absorption or making permanent. The management cannot dis-engage a workman and take another workman at his place as it would infringe the provisions of Section 25G & H of the ID Act, 1947. In the circumstances, management should reinstate this workman as casual labour. In case there is no job, the management should take action keeping in view Section 25G & H of the ID Act, 1947.

This issue is decided accordingly.

ISSUE NO. 4

It was submitted from the side of the workman that in view of 1966 LLJ 134, AIR 1991 page 173 and in view of Directive Principles of State Policy has confirmed in Article 30(d) of the Constitution a casual workman cannot be denied the same salary of Class-IV employees when they performed the same duties on regular basis. There should be equal pay for equal work and it should be treated as a fundamental right in service jurisprudence.

It has been held in (2003) 6 SCC 123 as under:—

The principle of "equal pay for equal work" is not always easy to apply. There are inherent difficulties in comparing and evaluating the work done by different persons in different organizations, or even in the same organization. It is a concept which requires for its applicability complete and wholesale identity between a group of employees claiming identical pay scales and the other group of employees who have already earned such pay scales. The problem about equal pay cannot always be translated into a mathematical formula.

It is obvious from the judgment that the principles of equal pay for equal work cannot be applied everywhere. A daily wager holds no post. Scale of pay is attached to a definite post. This workman was not holding any definite post, so he cannot be compared with the regular and permanent staff for equal pay and allowances.

It has been further held in (2003) 1 SCC 250 as under:

"Equal pay for equal work applicability of the principle of, held, depends not only on the nature or volume of work but also on the qualitative difference in reliability and responsibilities as well—Even in case of same functions, responsibilities do make a real and substantial difference. It is for the claimant of parity to substantiate a clear-cut basis of equivalence and a resultant hostile discrimination— In absence of requisite substantiating material, High Court erred in granting the NMR workers/ daily wagers/casual workers parity in pay with the regularly employed staff merely on presumption of equality of the nature of work—However, such workers, held, entitled to payment of prescribed minimum wages."

It has been held in this case that equal pay for equal work would depend upon not only the nature or the volume of work but also on the qualitative difference as regards reliability and responsibilities though the functions may be the same.

The workman has worked as casual labours for 2-3 years. He is not entitled to Equal Pay for Equal Work.

This issue is decided accordingly.

ISSUE NO. 5

It was submitted by the management that payment of full back wages is not the natural consequence of the order of discharge or dismissal being set aside. It has been held in (2003) 6 SCC 141 that it is incumbent upon the labour court to decide the quantum of back wages.

It has been further held in this case that payment of back wages having discretionary element involved it is to be dealt with the facts and circumstances of the case. No definite formula can be evolved.

It has been further held in this case that payment of back wages in its entirety is the statutory sanction. In (2003) 4 SCG 27 the Hon'ble Apex Court held that in view of delay in raising the dispute and initiating the proceedings back was need not be allowed. In the instant case there is no delay at least on the part of the workman in raising the dispute.

In 1978 Lab IC 1968—three Judges Bench of the Hon'ble Apex Court held that payment of full back wages is the normal rule. In case services have been illegally terminated, either by dismissal or discharge or retrenchment, in such circumstance the workman is entitled to full back wages except to the extent he was gainfully employed during the enforced idleness. In the instant case the workman was always ready to work but he was not permitted on account of invalid act of the employer.

In 2005 IV AD SC 39—three Judges Bench of the Hon'ble Apex Court held that reinstatement with full back wages is justified. In this case the workman has performed more than 240 days work and he has been retrenched without payment of compensation and pay in lieu of notice.

The workman is a skilled worker. He must be doing some sort of work off and on. He is not employed in any establishment. He has been doing some sort of work for his own survival and for the survival of his family. In the facts and circumstances of the case the workman is entitled to 25% back wages.

This issue is decided accordingly.

The reference is replied thus:—

The action of the management of CPWD, Director General, CPWD, New Delhi, in terminating the services of Sh. Pramod Kumar S/o. Sh. Jhandu Ram, Driver w.e.f. 01-08-1993, is neither just nor fair nor legal. The management should reinstate the workman along with 25% back wages within two months from the date of the publication of the award.

The award is given accordingly.

referred the following point for adjudication:—

The point runs as here under:—

“Whether the action of the management of Indian Agricultural Research Institute in terminating the services of Shri Dinesh Kumar S/o. Yogender Roy is legal and justified? If not, to what relief the workman is entitled?”

The case of the workman is that he was employed on 10-10-1994 by the management on consolidated pay of Rs. 900/- per month and was discharging the duties at National Research Centre on Plant Biotechnology. He worked continuously till 20-02-1996 when the services of the workman were illegally terminated.

The workman has completed 240 days work in a calendar year during the course of his employment. He has not been paid retrenchment compensation and three months' pay in lieu of notice.

The case of the management is that he was engaged temporarily on contractual basis for a specified period and his engagement was dispensed with as per the rules and came to end by efflux of time. He was appointed for a specified period on specific work against the pre-empted bill rendered by him as charges. He was not employed as Technical Assistant. The workman was engaged temporarily and purely on contractual and need basis to work as a more additional hand under the supervision of the Technical Assistant for

I. The Central Government by exercising the powers conferred by clause (d) of section 2A of the Section 10 of the Industrial Disputes Act, 1947 has referred this dispute vide Order No. L-12012/150/2003-IR (B-II) dated 29th April, 2004 for adjudication on the following Schedule:—

SCHEDULE

“Whether the action of the management of Indian Bank in terminating the services of Shri S. Viswanatha Rao, Ex. Casual Driver-cum-Peon is legal and justified? If not, what relief is the concerned workman entitled to?” Whether the demand for absorption of his service in terms of the settlement dated 23-07-1994 is justified? If so, what relief is the concerned workman is entitled to?”

2. The first party workman by way of his claim statement among other things contended that he was appointed as a Personal Driver during the year 1990-91 and was attached to the Zonal Inspector coming under the control of the Assistant General Manager of the bank being paid a consolidated salary of Rs.1000/- per month. He worked as such continuously till 6-9-1994 and then his services came to be assigned to the Zonal Office and he was attached to the Dy. General Manager on a consolidated salary of Rs.2100/- per month. He worked continuously till he was terminated from service w.e.f. 1-6-2001 without issuing any memo or letter or assigning any reasons; that there was a process of regularizing the services of Personal Drivers in the bank and he submitted a representation to that effect on 29-11-1995 but the management did not consider his representation despite his unblemished services and the various letters of appreciations in his favour by the officers of the bank; that he filed a writ petition seeking regularization of his services in WP No. 35664/2001 to be disposed of by order dated 2nd April, 2002 with a direction to the management to consider his representation dated 29-11-1995 and pass appropriate orders in accordance with law. However, there was no action taken by the management despite those directions and a representation made by him in that regard. In fact he also made reference to the settlement entered into between the union and the management regarding absorption of the Personal Drivers of the bank as a sub staff once they completed minimum 5 years of service in the capacity of Personal Drivers; that the management without properly examining these facts issued a letter dated 3-6-2002 informing the first party that they are unable to absorb his services without applying their mind to the various contentions taken by him; that the first party worked with the management continuously for a period of 10 years till he was refused employment w.e.f. 1-6-2002; that the representation dated 29-11-1995 made by him was forwarded by the Chief Manager(PI) to the Chief Manager, Zonal Office, Bangalore furnishing the service details of the first party workman but no action was taken by the management on that representation; that as per the said settlement dated 23-07-1994 which provides for absorption of Personal Drivers as sub-staff/Driver in case the driver completes continuous service of 5 years. The request of the first party was not considered though his juniors by name Shri Hatilgowda and Shri Venkatesh were retained in service. Therefore, the action of the management in refusing service to the first party who worked continuously for a period of 240 days and more is illegal amounting to retrenchment and that he is entitled to get relief of absorption of his services with a direction to the management to reinstate him in service with all consequential benefits.

3. The management by its counter statement, in the first instance denied the contention of the first party that there was any relationship of master and servant or employer and employee between the management and the first party. The management further contended that the present claim is not an Industrial Dispute as defined under Section 2(k) of the ID Act. While, giving reply to the claim statement at Para 2 the management denied that the first party was appointed as a Personal Driver during the year 1991 and worked continuously till 6-9-1994 receiving salary of Rs. 1000/- per month. The management contended that the first party is not an employee of the management and therefore, his contention that he worked continuously without break in service does not arise. The management also denied the allegation that the first party also worked with the Dy. General Manager on a consolidated salary of Rs. 2,100 per month and that he worked continuously till he was terminated from service w.e.f. 01-06-2001. While not disputing the fact that the first party made representation dated 29-11-1995, the management denied the allegation that the first party had unblemished service and letters of appreciation in his favour by the officers of the bank contending that those letters issued by the officers of the bank in their personal capacity are not relevant for the purpose. While referring to the aforesaid settlement, the management contended that as per the said settlement all the Personal Drivers already engaged by the bank's Executives/senior officials for driving cars provided by the bank as on the date of the settlement and on completion of minimum of 5 years of uninterrupted services will be considered as one time measure for the post of sub staff subject to fulfillment of other terms and conditions laid down therein and their seniority for the purpose of considering for appointment as a permanent sub staff would be reckoned from the date of their initial engagement as personal driver. The management denied the allegation that without properly examining the representation put forth by the first party, issued a letter dated 3-6-2002 informing the first party that the bank is unable to absorb him on regular appointment in the bank as sub staff. On the contrary the bank has properly examined the various aspects before issuing the said letter. The management did not dispute the fact of the first party approaching the High Court in the above said Writ Petition and then making a representation dated 29-11-1995 without making any comments as to what extent the management took the steps in the light of the directions issued by the High Court made in the said Writ Petition. Therefore, in substance the management contended that the services of the first party were not being utilized by the management as its employee, therefore, question of terminating his services does not arise and that the action of the management in not absorbing him in service is neither illegal nor unjust. The management also took up the contention that there was no question of any retrenchment of services coming under the purview of Section 2(cc) of the ID Act read with section 25F thereof.

The management therefore, requested this tribunal to eject the reference.

4. During the course of trial the management on its behalf examined two witnesses as MW1&2 getting marked two documents at EX.M1 and M2. MW1 said to have been working as Manager, Personnel Department in his examination chief stated that he did not know the first party personally and that he was appointed as a personal driver of the management bank. He also stated that the first party never worked in their bank much less for the period of 10 years. In his further examination chief he referred to the aforesaid two documents namely the letter dated 23-5-1997 issued by the Ministry of Finance banning the appointment of personal Drivers and a copy of the award in I NO. 57/2000 passed by the Industrial Tribunal, Kollam, Kerala State marked as EX.M1 and EX.M2 respectively. In his cross examination he was unable to say if there was any settlement dated 23-7-1994 between the management and the Indian Bank Employees Union as per Ex. W1. He admitted that during the year 1996 one Mr. N.P. Sonechhatra was the Assistant General Manager and the certificate at Ex. W2. Dated 10-1-1996 has been issued by him. He also admitted that one Mr. K.R. Sethuraman has issued a certificate dated 18-1-1996 at EX.W3 to the effect that the first party was his Personal Driver. It was elicited that a letter dated 19-12-1995 at EX.W4 was addressed by the Chief Manager(PI), Head office to the Chief Manager, Zonal office Bangalore in the matter of absorption of the first party in the light of the settlement at EX.W1. He admitted that in pursuance to EX.W1 some of the personal Drivers who were found eligible have been made permanent in service. He was unable to say what action exactly was taken in pursuance to EX.W4. It was elicited that the salary paid by the respective officers to their personal Drivers was being reimbursed by the management to them. He admitted that the settlement at EX.W1 still holds the field not being withdrawn or terminated so far. He admitted that there were permanent vacancies for drivers post during the period from 1994 to 1996 when the first party was working as Personal Driver under one Mr. B.N. Naik and Mr. G.Muniyappa, the Deputy General Manager as per the certificate at EX.W5 & EX.W6. The management then examined the said Muniyappa as MW2 by filing his affidavit evidence and his averments in the affidavit speak to the fact that when he was working as a Dy. General Manager of the management bank at Bangalore, he was provided with a car by the bank for his personal use and was paid car allowance. He was given option to drive the car himself or use the services of a driver and accordingly he used the services of the first party as his Personal Driver who was also the Personal Driver of the previous Dy. General Manager, Shri K.R. Sethuraman. He stated that the first party was made clear that his engagement was by way of personal driver and he cannot claim employment in the bank and that the first party after having agreed to that term served under him as a personal driver. At para 4 of the affidavit the witness stated that name of the first party was not sponsored through employment exchange and that he did not fulfill the qualification of 5 year on 23rd July, 1994 as per the terms of Memorandum of Settlement entered between the management and union. In his cross examination he admitted that the certificate dated 01-06-2001 at EX. W7 has been issued by him in favour of the first party.

5. As against this the first party also filed his affidavit by way of evidence reiterating almost the same averments as he raised by way of his claim in his Claim statement. In his cross examination the only suggestion made to him on behalf of the management was that his representation dated 29-11-1995 was considered by the management as per the directions of the High Court and that the management did not find his case fit for the relief asked by him.

6. Now, therefore, in the light of the above said pleadings and the respective contentions of the parties having regard to the points of dispute between them as per the aforesaid reference schedule, now the points to be considered would be "whether the management was justified in refusing rather terminating the services of the first party and whether the demand of the first party for absorption of his services in terms of the settlement dated 23-7-1994 was justified or not". I would like to take up both the aforesaid points together, they being interrelated and interdependent.

7. Learned counsel for the management in his arguments mainly contended that as per the aforesaid memorandum of settlement at Ex. W1 the first party did not fulfill the condition of 5 years continuous service as on the date of the said settlement and therefore, his claim seeking absorption of his services with the management bank either as a sub staff or as a Driver is not tenable. Learned counsel invited the attention of this tribunal to the first term of the said settlement to prove his point that the first party did not fulfill the aforesaid condition of 5 years continuous service as on the date of the said settlement from the date of his initial appointment as a personal driver. His contention was that the first party in his own words was appointed as a personal driver in the year 1991 and therefore as on the date of the said settlement which took place in the year 1994, he did not complete continuous service of 5 years and therefore he cannot maintain or claim any right of absorption of his services under the said settlement. His next contention was that the first party being admittedly a personal driver working with the different officers/executives of the bank can never be considered to be an employee of the bank and therefore, the question of bank terminating his services did not arise. Learned counsel for the management also referred to the above said letter at Ex. M1 issued by the Ministry banning appointment of personal drivers and took support of the aforesaid award at Ex. M2 to justify the action of the management in not granting the relief of absorption in favour of the first party.

8. Learned counsel for the first party on the other hand in the first instance argued that though the first party's services were being engaged as personal driver by the various officers/executives of the bank but indirectly he was the employee of the bank as admittedly the salary amount being paid to him was being reimbursed to the officers by the management itself. Now relying upon the very same memorandum of settlement at Ex. W1, learned counsel took the court through the very condition laid down in the said settlement to substantiate his contention that from the very reading of the said term, it will be evident that the condition to be fulfilled under the said settlement was of 5 years service by the personal driver not as on the date of the settlement but either before the settlement or subsequent to the settlement and it is in this view of the matter the first party having served under the various officers of the bank continuously for a period of 10 years right from the year 1990 till 2001 as per the documents at Ex. W2 & W7 he had perfected his right to claim absorption of his services of the bank and therefore, the action of the bank in not considering his case was illegal and unjustified. Learned counsel submitted the letter at Ex. M1 will not come to the help of the management as it came to be issued in the month of June, 1997 when the first party had already completed his 5 years of service from the date of his initial appointment made in the year 1990. With respect to the award at Ex. M2 learned counsel submitted that in the said case the workman concerned did not fulfill the condition of 5 years of service and therefore, his reference was rejected by the tribunal.

9. After having gone through the records, I find substance in the arguments advanced for the first party. The first and foremost document which has been relied upon and taken support of by both the parties to be considered would be the aforesaid settlement dated 23-07-1994. As noted above, the learned counsel for the management while referring to condition No. 1 of the said settlement was of the view that the first party must have completed 5 years of service as on the date of the said settlement so as to seek the relief of absorption and since as on the date of the said settlement which took place in the month of July, 1994 the first party had hardly completed 3 years of service was not entitled for the said relief. Whereas, learned counsel for the first party as noted above, relying upon the very same condition laid down in the said settlement contended that from the reading of the said term in the settlement it is crystal clear that the condition laid down with regard to the completion of 5 years of service was not with reference to the date of settlement but overall completion of 5 years of service by the Personal Driver working under the Offices of the bank. In order to appreciate the aforesaid respective contentions, I feel it necessary to bring on record the very said term of the said settlement running as under:

“That all the Personal drivers already engaged by the Bank’s executives/senior officials for driving cars provided by the bank as on the date of the settlement and on completion of a minimum of 5 years of uninterrupted service in the capacity of personal drivers will be considered as a one time measure for the post of sub staff subject to fulfillment of other norms and conditions laid down herein below and their seniority for the purpose of considering for appointment as permanent sub staff would be reckoned from the date of their initial engagement as personal driver”.

10. Therefore, from the plain reading of the said term we find very much substance in the arguments advanced on behalf of the first party. As could be read from the aforesaid wordings of the settlement the personal driver was required to fulfill the condition of total 5 years of service either as on the date of the settlement or subsequent thereto. Therefore, from the wordings of the aforesaid settlement condition No.1, there can be no hesitation in the mind of this tribunal to come to the conclusion that a personal driver was not required to complete his 5 years of continuous service as on the date of the settlement but either before the settlement or subsequent to the settlement putting together the services rendered by him earlier and subsequent to the settlement. In the instant case though the management had an audacity to deny almost all the averments made in the claim statement, there is ample oral and documentary evidence produced before the tribunal to speak to the fact that the first party was in continuous service of the officers of the bank as personal driver right from the year 1990 till his services were refused in the month of June 2001. The first party had produced before this tribunal as noted above, in all six service certificates at Ex.W2 to W7 to suggest that right from the year 1990 till June 2001 he was in the continuous service of different officers one after another. Genuineness of these certificates has not been denied or disputed by the management, on the other hand the witnesses examined for the management were to admit atleast two of the certificates at Ex.W6 & W7 being issued by MW2 and by his Predecessor by name Shri Sethuraman. MW2 also has given evidence to the effect that he had utilized the services of the first party by way of Personal Driver and that his services were utilized by his Predecessor earlier to that. Therefore, the first party being in the service of the officers of the bank continuously for a period of 10 years from the date of his initial appointment and having fulfilled the aforesaid condition of 5 years continuous service though subsequent to the said settlement he was right and justified in seeking the relief of absorption of his services with the management bank either as a sub staff or as a Driver. It is unfortunate to note that though the first party approached the High Court by way of Writ Petition and directions were issued by the High Court to consider his case in accordance with law, the management failed to do so and rejected his request for no good reasons. The endorsement at Ex.W12 issued by the management in rejecting the request of the first party vide his representation dated 29-11-1995 lacks total application of the mind. There are absolutely no reasons given or there was any reference of the above said settlement of July 1994 on which the claim of the first party was based, why his claim was not justified rather was not tenable no reasons are assigned by the management while rejecting the same. Therefore, when the first party has fulfilled the very condition of the said settlement of rendering his services continuously for a period of 10 years from the date of initial appointment in the date he was refused work, it is goes without saying that he fulfilled the above said condition of 5 years of continuous service and therefore, was entitled for the relief of absorption of his services either as a sub staff or as a driver as deemed fit by the management. Since the first party is entitled for the aforesaid relief, the next question would be as to whether the management was not justified in terminating his services takes the back seat. It is to be noted that the management certainly was not justified in terminating his services after having allowed him to continue his services under its officers from time to time for a period of about 10 years that too without absorbing his services as per the said settlement. In fact, we can go one step further to say that the services rendered by the first party with the management after he completed continuous 5 years service and fulfilled the said condition in the said settlement are required to be treated on par with the services rendered by a permanent employee of the bank. In the result, it is to be held that the management was not justified in terminating the services of the first party and at the same time the first party is justified in seeking the relief of absorption of his services in terms of the settlement dated 23-7-1994. Hence the following award:

AWARD

The management is directed to absorb the services of the first party workman either as a sub staff or as a driver w.e.f. the date he completed 5 years of service as Personal Driver under various officers of the bank from the date of his initial appointment as a Personal Driver. He shall be given all service benefits from the date his services were absorbed as a sub staff or as a Driver. No costs.

The case of the management is that this workman was engaged to do additional work which was of temporary nature. He was paid his wages at daily rated for the days of his engagement.

That during the period of his engagement as a daily rated Sh. Jeet Singh has taken a loan of Rs. 13700/- under Self Employment Scheme for running a Flour Mill on 11-11-1993 and was also doing the business as a LIC Agent since 1991. He was self employed and got his own source of income, so his services were not fully available to the respondent. Under the circumstances his name has been expunged from the panel of daily wager and he was discontinued from further engagement.

That the workman has never completed 240 days work in any of the years of his employment. He was engaged in the activities of Flour Mill running and LIC work.

The workman applicant has filed rejoinder. In the rejoinder he has reiterated the averments of his claim statement and has denied most of the paras of the written statement. The management has also denied most of the paras of the claim statement.

Evidence of both the parties has been taken.

Heard argument from both the sides and perused the papers on the record.

It was submitted from the side of the workman that he has completed 240 days work in each year of his employment. Juniors to him have been continued in the services whereas this workman has been removed from service arbitrarily and illegally.

It was submitted from the side of the management that the workman was pre-occupied with running of Flour Mill and LIC work.

The management has filed Paper No.243, the details of engagement of the workman. From perusal of the above detail it becomes quite obvious that the workman has worked for 25 days in the year 1990, 90 days in the year 1991, 25 days in the year 1992 and 74 days in the year 1993. The workman served the management for 499 days as per the chart submitted by the management.

It was submitted from the side of the management that the workman worked at the place of vacancy of Sh. B.P. Bhat in the bank's branch at Daba.

It has been held that the initial burden to prove, lies on the workman to establish that he has worked for 240 days in a calendar year or preceding the order of his retrenchment.

From perusal of the record it appears that the workman has not filed any document to establish that he has worked for 240 days. The workman has not denied the chart filed by the management. From perusal of the chart it becomes quite obvious that the workman has not completed even 100 days in any of the years of his employment. He has worked for 499 days in four years of employment. The workman has not filed any document besides his affidavit.

Affidavits are self serving. The workman has not filed any other documentary evidence to establish that he has worked for 240 days. There is no breach of provision of Section 25 F of the ID Act, 1947. The management has annexed with the record the documents regarding running of Flour Mill and engagement as LIC agent.

The reference is replied thus:

The action of the management of Canara Bank in terminating the services of Shri Jeet Singh, daily paid worker w.e.f. 20-02-1994 is legal and justified. The workman applicant is not entitled to get any relief as prayed for.

The award is given accordingly.

AWARD

1. The Central Government by exercising the powers conferred by clause (d) of sub-section 2A of the Section 10 of the Industrial Disputes Act, 1947 has referred this dispute vide order No. L-12012/100/91-IR(B-II) dated 28-10-1991 for adjudication on the following schedule:

SCHEDULE

“Whether the action of the Management of Central Bank of India in terminating the services of Shri Sripad V, S/o late V. Ramachandrachar, Ex.CMD Collector (Pigmy Deposit Agent) is justified? If not to what relief the workman is entitled to?”

2. In the Claim Statement filed by the first party it is stated that he was appointed as Central Mini Deposit Collector (Pigmy Deposit Collector) of the second party on 13-12-1976; that the first party has furnished cash security of Rs.1000 to the second party. He has rendered efficient and sincere service to the second party to develop CMD scheme. Though there were no complaints against the first party the second party has illegally terminated the services of the first party w.e.f. 30-09-1981. This tribunal has got jurisdiction to decide the matter. The first party is entitled to reinstatement with continuity of service and other monetary benefits w.e.f. 30-09-1991.

3. In the Counter statement filed by the Second party it is stated that this is not an industrial dispute. There is no relationship of employer and employee between the first party and the second party. The first party is not a workman as defined under Section 2(s) of the ID Act. The Second party terminated only the agency of the first party. The first party was employed only to collect deposits on commission basis as per the agreement. There was several irregularities committed by the first party as an agent, amounting to breach of the terms of the agreement. The first party is not entitled to any relief.

4. A similar reference in CR No.75/1991 based on similar facts and points of law in respect of Shri N. Mohan Rao was also pending before this tribunal and after recording the common evidence in both the proceedings i.e. in CR No.75/1991, this tribunal by award dated 31-08-1994 dismissed both the references solely on the ground that they were not the workmen as defined under Section 2(s) of the ID Act and that the disputes raised in both these references were not the disputes coming under the purview of the provisions of the ID Act. It is seen from the record that aggrieved by this award only workman Shri V. Sripad involved in the present reference CR.No.74/1991 approached the Hon'ble High Court and the High Court vide Order dated 27-05-2005 while setting aside the award in respect of the present workman, remanded the matter back to this tribunal for fresh disposal in accordance with law and in the light of the law declared by the Supreme Court in the case of Indian Bank's Association Vs. Syndicate Bank and Others -AIR 2001 SC 946. After the remand both the parties were notified with the dates of hearing and they made appearance through counsels. No additional oral or documentary evidence was adduced by both the parties and the matter came to be posted for arguments on merits.

5. Learned, counsel for the management in his arguments submitted that the first party who was working as a pigmy agent committed various irregularities resulting into the termination of his pigmy agency in the year 1981. He contended that the first party not being a regular employee of the management bank, it was not incumbent upon it to terminate the services in compliance of Section 2(o) of the ID Act, read with Section 25F thereof. His next contention was that the first party as admitted by him in his deposition before this tribunal that he has been practicing as a lawyer since from the year 1986 and therefore, if at all he is entitled for any compensation amount by way of Incentive Commission, Conveyance Allowance and by way of Gratuity, it will be only for the period in between the year 1981 and 1986 and not beyond that. He contended that since the first party has been treated as a workman as defined under section 2(s) of the ID Act, for the limited purpose in the aforesaid decision of their Lordship of Supreme Court and since he was admittedly not a regular employee of the bank, question of granting him relief of reinstatement does not arise particularly, when the first party is now a practicing lawyer at Raichur Bar.

6. The first party through post sent his written arguments wherein, he contended that merely, because he is practicing as a lawyer it is not the ground to refuse him backwages from the date of his termination till the date of passing of this award. In this respect he relied upon decision reported in AIR 1991 SC Page 1490. He contended that he was being paid 3% commission on the collection of deposit amount and was getting Rs.1000 per month as commission. He contended that since he has been held to be a 'workman' as per the aforesaid decision of their Lordship of Supreme Court, his services could not have been terminated without following the compliance of Section 25F of the ID Act particularly when there was no enquiry conducted against him for the alleged complaint received against him from the depositors. Therefore, he requested this tribunal to pass an award including global compensation and interest thereon at the rate of 18 per cent per annum. He submitted a memo of calculation claiming a sum of Rs. 8,44,984 as under:—

A. Wages & Incentive Remuneration: (for 51 months @Rs. 1200 per month)	Rs. 61,200
B. Conveyance: (for 51 months @Rs.100 per month)	Rs.05,100
C. 15 days Gratuity for 5 years	Rs.03,000
To be paid as on 1st January 1986	Rs.69,300
D. A+B+C+ Interest thereon @ Rs.10.50 % per annum for 21 years (from 01-01-1986 to 20-03-2007)	Rs.6,24,984
E. Cost of Litigation & 21 years Movement	Rs. 0,20,000
F. Damages and Compensation for mental agony	Rs.2,00,000
Grand Total:	Rs.8,44,984

7. During the course of trial, as noted above, the management examined one witness as MW1 and got marked 2 documents at Ex. M1 & M2. Ex. M1 is the agreement of Pigmy agency entered into between the first party and the management and Ex. M2 is the agreement in respect of the workman in CR No.75/1991. MW1 in his examination chief gave the details of duties and functions, the first party was carrying out as a Pigmy Agent and the main focus of his statement was to the effect that the first party was not a workman as defined under Section 2(s) of the ID Act. With regard to the commission the first party was getting, at Para 4 of his examination chief he stated that the amount collected by the pigmy depositors was negligible compared to the deposit collected by the bank, it was less than 1%. In his statement in examination chief he also stated that they were giving 3% Commission on the amount of collection made by agent. During the course of cross examination attention was bestowed only on the point about the duties and functions to be carried out by the Pigmy agent so as to suggest that he was the employee of the bank and was the workman as defined under Section 2(s) of the ID Act.

8. The first party was examined as WW2 and his statement in examination chief relevant for the purpose, apart from the functions and duties carried out by him as the Pigmy agent, was to the effect that the bank was giving 3 per cent commission on the collections made by him. He further stated that he was getting Rs.1000 as commission on his collection. He stated that if his services were terminated in 1981, till 1986 he was unemployed and now he is practicing as an advocate. He stated that his income from profession of Advocacy is not sufficient to maintain his family. He made reference to the award passed by Industrial Tribunal, Hyderabad marked at Ex. W2 saying he is entitled for all the benefits as per the above said award. In his cross examination once again the management stressed on the point that the first party was just doing the job of pigmy agent and was not the employee of the bank.

9. Now, therefore, in the light of the above and the point of reference schedule, this tribunal now has to see as to "whether the management was justified in terminating the services of the first party and if not, what relief his entitled for."

10. As seen above, their Lordship of Supreme Court in their aforesaid decision reported in AIR 2001 SC Page 946 have made it abundantly clear and put to rest the controversy as to whether the pigmy agents come under the definition of the "workman". As per the above said decision, the pigmy agents such as the first party have been held to be a "workman" as defined under Section 2(s) of the I.D. Act. Now, if we proceed on the assumption that pigmy agent namely, the first party is a "workman", then the next question to be considered would be "whether his services could have been dispensed with or terminated by the management without compliance of Section 25 F of the I.D. Act, read with Section 2(oo) thereof. In the instant case undisputedly, the management did not follow the procedure as contemplated under Section 25F of the I.D. Act, except to make allegations that first party was not regular in making collections and there were some complaints against him. There is no attempt made by the management to substantiate the said allegation either by holding a DE or by issuing a show-cause notice or memo to the first party at any point of time. During the course of his examination chief the witness for the management has also not stated anything about the misconduct committed by the first party. Therefore, when the services of the first party were not terminated on the ground of misconduct by conducting any DE, then they could not have been dispensed with without compliance of Section 25F of the I.D. Act. Undisputedly, no such compliance has been done by the management before the services of the first party were discontinued. Therefore, the action of the management in terminating the services of the first party amounts to retrenchment and illegal termination in the light of the provisions of Section 2(oo) read with Section 25F of the I.D. Act.

11. Now, the question arises as to what relief the first party is entitled. As far as the relief of reinstatement is concerned as argued for the management, the first party not being a regular employee of the management bank and there being no post of Pigmy Agent sanctioned, it will not be in the interest of justice to give the relief of reinstatement to the first party particularly, when he is practicing as a lawyer right from the year 1986 onwards and that by way of his written arguments he did not ask for such a relief in his favour.

12. Now, coming to the monetary benefits. The first party as noted above, by way of his memo of calculation has claimed a total amount of Rs. 8,44,984. He claimed wages and Incentive Remuneration for 51 months from September, 1981 till 1st January, 1986 at the rate of Rs.1200 per month. As noted above, when admittedly in his own statement before this tribunal he was getting Rs. 1000 per month as claimed above. Therefore, at the rate of Rs.200 per month if deducted taking into consideration the period of above said 51 months he shall be entitled for wages and incentive commission of about Rs. 60,000. By way of conveyance he claimed Rs. 51 00 at the rate of Rs. 100 per month for the above said period of 51 months and he claimed a sum of Rs. 3000 by way of Gratuity for 5 years and both these claims since are not challenged on behalf of the management are to be granted. In this way as against the aforesaid 3 items the first party will be entitled for a sum of Rs. 68,000. The next claim made by the first party by way of the said calculation memo is of Rs. 6,24,984 by way of interest over the said amount on three items at the rate of 10.50 per cent per annum from 01-01-1986 till March, 2007 the date on which he submitted the calculation memo. In my opinion the first party cannot claim interest amount at the above said rate and for the above said period. He will be entitled for interest amount only after the amount becomes due towards him. As noted above, the controversy with regard to the point as to whether the pigmy agent is a workman as defined under Section 2(s) of the I.D. Act has been put to rest once and for all only by the aforesaid decision of their Lordship of Supreme Court rendered in the year 2001, then if at all any interest is to be paid to the workman concerned, it will be only subsequent to the date of the aforesaid judgement of their Lordship of Supreme Court and not earlier to that. Therefore, over the aforesaid amount of Rs. 68,100 the first party will be entitled to the interest at the rate of 10 per cent per annum w.e.f. January 2002 onwards. The other two claims put forth by the first party of Rs.20,000 as against the cost of litigation and Rs. 2 lakhs as against the damages and compensation for mental agony are not established by way of any oral or documentary evidence. Moreover, as seen above, in fact this tribunal had rejected the reference of the first party in the year 1994 and it is after he approached the Hon'ble High Court, the matter has been sent back for fresh disposal. Therefore, the management cannot be burdened or can be penalized for the litigation going on before this tribunal, first of all on the point as to whether the first party came under the definition of a 'workman' as defined under the I.D. Act, question of any kind of damages by way of mental agony does not arise when the dispute raised by the first party himself was pending before this tribunal. Therefore, to sum up it is held that the first party is entitled to a sum of Rs. 60,000 towards wages incentive commission, a sum of Rs. 5100 towards conveyance allowance and a sum of Rs. 3000 towards gratuity, totaling Rs. 68,100 with interest at the rate of Rs. 10 per cent per annum from January 2002 till the date of its realization. Hence the following award:

AWARD

The management is directed to pay a sum of Rs. 68,100 in lump sum to the first party as against the aforesaid 3 items at the rate of 10 per cent per annum from January, 2002 till the date of this award. The amount shall be paid within a period of 3 months from the date of publication of this award or else the amount shall carry interest at the rate of 18 per cent per annum till its realization. No costs.

Vide their Order No. L-12012/101/2001-IR (B-II) dated 27th August, 2001, the Ministry of Labour, Government of India, referred the following dispute for the consideration of this Tribunal:

"Whether the action of the management of Punjab National Bank in terminating the services of Shri Sukhbir Chand w.e.f. 18-4-1992 is just and legal once the criminal case pending in the trial court since 19-3-1990 resulted in his acquittal? If not, what relief the workman is entitled to?"

The notice of the reference was given to the parties who appeared and filed their respective claims in the shape of Statement of Claim, Written Statement, Rejoinder, Affidavit of the workman accompanied by copies of the documents Marked as annexures A-1 to A-8 and that of witness of the Management.

The claim of the workman is that he was served with a charge sheet dated 20-3-91, for having made the payment of rupees five lacs against a factitious cheque No. 5357 of M.S. Mahajan Exports when he was working as a cashier in the management bank. The management held departmental enquiry against him and appointed Shri M.S. Chauhan as enquiry officer who held that the workman had deposited an amount of rupees 4,49,920 on 19-3-1990 in the account of customers. The finding was perverse being not based on facts and evidence. Regarding the other allegations of his having accepted the payment of rupees five lacs out of the account of M/s. Mahajan Export, there was no evidence, but even then the enquiry officer recorded the finding against him on the basis of circumstantial evidence holding that the workman has either himself or through some body else got the cheque prepared and the money was withdrawn. Similarly the findings of the enquiry officer on the charge No.3 was also not based on facts nor there was evidence that the workman had acted in connivance with his brother in law, Lakhmi Chand, but still it was held that the workman had committed the fraud in connivance with his brother in law-Lakhmi Chand. He has further claimed that the disciplinary authority accepted the findings without giving opportunity to the workman to explain his position and submit his representation. He was, however, issued a show cause notice dated 26th of March 1992 and was allowed to make statement only regarding the quantum of punishment. Thus he was deprived of the right to submit his explanation about the findings. Even then the workman had filed his reply to the show cause notice on 10-4-92 whereby he requested for setting aside the findings and to reinstate the workman in service whereas the Chief Manager, without dealing with the points raised by the workman passed order dated 18-4-92 and imposed the punishment of dismissal from service on him with immediate effect.

The further claim of the workman is that a FIR was registered against him on 19-3-1990, at the request of the management bank in which one Lakhmi Dutt was also made an accused. The workman filed a civil suit requesting for grant of relief of injunction restraining the management bank from terminating his services till the decision of the criminal court. On his request a restrain order was issued against the management but on appeal the said order was set aside by the Addl. District Judge, Panipat. His further claim is that vide judgment dated 27-4-1999 the workman was acquitted of the charges framed against him in the criminal case and serious observations were made against the management bank. The workman was acquitted since the prosecution failed to prove his guilt beyond any reasonable doubt. In the face of that judgment it was required of the management to have reconsidered his case since the foundation of the charge served upon the workman was the same. But the management did not consider his representation dated 6th of August, 1999. Therefore, notice dated 15-8-99 was served upon the management. As a result of adamant attitude of the management the conciliation proceedings between the parties failed and the matter was referred to the Ministry of Labour which has made the present reference. The workman in the end has prayed that since he has been acquitted of the criminal charges which were also the basis of domestic enquiry, therefore, his termination from service is required to be quashed and he should be treated in service as if there was no order of his dismissal from service. He has claimed the law laid down by the Hon'ble High Court of Punjab & Haryana and the Apex Court is in his favour.

The management has opposed the claim of the workman stating that the workman being the employee of the management bank was governed by the Shastri and Desai Awards besides by various Bipartite Settlements, therefore, he was subject to disciplinary action under chapter 19 of the 1st Bipartite Settlement. According to them the workman Sukhbir Chand, while acting as receipt cashier in the management branch misappropriated a sum of Rs. five lacs regarding which a FIR was lodged on 19-3-90. Since the workman was not put on trial within a year of the registration of the FIR, therefore, in terms of paragraph 19.4 of the Bipartite Settlement he was charge sheeted on 20-3-90 by the competent authority alleging that the workman had shown fictitious receipt of cash without receiving the same from the parties/customers and also prepared fictitious vouchers thereby he committed misconduct by acting prejudicial to the interests of the management bank. The explanation given by the workman was found not satisfactory, therefore, a departmental enquiry was conducted against him. The Enquiry Officer, vide his report dated 14-2-92 held that the allegations are proved. The disciplinary authority after giving show-cause notice to the workman came to the conclusions that the findings are correct. He gave notice to the workman about the proposed punishment. He also gave an opportunity to the workman of personal hearing and also provided a copy of enquiry report to him. The workman appeared before the disciplinary authority along with his defence representative. The disciplinary authority did not find the explanation given by the workman convincing and passed the order dismissing the workman from service. It is further claimed by them that the challan, the basis of the FIR registered, was put up before the Judicial Magistrate on 21-4-92, but by then the departmental action had already been concluded. Claiming that the level of proof in criminal proceedings and in the departmental enquiry is different as in the case of departmental enquiries the preponderance of the evidence is done whereas in the case of criminal proceedings, the offence is required to be proved beyond any reasonable doubt. In the enquiry the charges of misconduct by the workman, prejudicial to the interest of the management bank, were proved on the basis of material on record, therefore, the departmental action was taken against him. The workman was dismissed from service on 18-4-92 and he has raised the claim after a lapse of seven years. Thus the reference is also bad in law.

On merits it is the claim of the management that a fair and proper enquiry was held against the workman and the allegations were proved against him on the basis of evidence available on the file. It is claimed by the management that although it was not incumbent upon the management to have provided the copy of the enquiry report to the workman, yet the same was provided to him along with the show-cause notice and in reply to the show-cause notice the workman had made submissions. They have further claimed that the action taken against the workman was on the basis of evidence available on record; and that the stay order obtained by the workman was ultimately set aside. They have also claimed that although the workman was entitled to file an appeal against the order of the disciplinary authority, but he did not file any appeal nor gave any reason for not doing so, therefore, he lost the right to do that. Admitting that the workman was acquitted by the Judicial Magistrate but claimed that that was done on the failure of the prosecution to adduce the evidence. The judgment in a criminal case has no effect on the disciplinary proceedings as the same were conducted in accordance with the Awards and Bipartite Settlements. Their further plea is that the acquittal in criminal case has no effect on the domestic enquiry and the workman is not entitled for reinstatement. Since the management had lost confidence in the workman in view of his misconduct, therefore, he could not be taken back in service. They have sought permission of the court to support their contentions with the Judgments of High Courts of the Country and that of the Apex Court and stated that the order of the disciplinary authority was proper and fair, therefore, the workman is not entitled to any relief.

The workman filed rejoinder in which he reiterated the facts stated in the statement of claim and did not add anything new. He only denied the claim made by the Management that the enquiry was conducted in the matter in accordance with law that the principles of natural justice were followed before imposing the punishment on him.

Domestic Enquiry in industrial cases has acquired great significance and industrial adjudication attaches considerable importance to such an enquiry. The Supreme Court has said that an enquiry is not an empty formality but an essential condition to the legality of the disciplinary order. In other words before the delinquent workman can be dismissed for misconduct, the employer should hold a fair and regular enquiry into the misconduct and dismissal without holding a regular enquiry would be illegality. It is also well settled that the disciplinary enquiry has to be quasi-judicial, hold enquiry according to the principles of natural justice and the Enquiry Officer has a duty to act judicially. As is held by the Hon'ble Supreme Court in the case of Central Bank of India Ltd. versus Karunamony Banerjee reported as (1967) 2 LLJ 739, the rules of natural justice require that the workman proceeded against should be informed clearly of the charges levelled against him; witnesses should be normally examined in his presence in respect of the charges; if statements taken previously and given by the witnesses are relied on, they should be made available to the workman concerned; the workman should be given a fair opportunity to examine witnesses including himself, in support of his defence, and the Inquiry Officer should record his findings based on the evidence so adduced. Karnataka High Court in the case of GR Venkateshwar Reddy versus Karnataka State Road Transport Corporation reported as (1995) 1 LLJ 1011 has laid down the following requirements of reasonable procedure subject to any special provisions relating to procedure in the relevant rules, regulations, Standing Orders or a statute:—

- (a) the employee shall be informed of the exact charges which he is called upon to meet;
- (b) he should be given an opportunity to explain any material relied on by the management to prove the charges;
- (c) the evidence of the management witnesses should be recorded in the presence of the delinquent employee and he should be given an opportunity to cross-examine such witnesses;
- (d) the delinquent employee shall either be furnished with copies of the documents relied on by the management or be permitted to have adequate inspection of the documents relied on by the management;
- (e) the delinquent employee should be given the opportunity to produce relevant evidence—both documentary and oral which include the right to examine self and other witnesses; and to call for relevant and material documents in the custody of the employer;
- (f) whenever the inquiring authority is different from disciplinary authority, the delinquent employee shall be furnished with a copy of the inquiry report and be permitted to make a presentation to the disciplinary authority against the findings recorded in the inquiry report.

In this background it is to be seen whether in this case the Management had held a fair and proper enquiry against the workman or not. In his written arguments the workman has alleged that the management did not hold a fair and proper enquiry. The witnesses produced by it were not connected with the bank and the objections raised by the workman were not given weight. He was also not given the copy of the enquiry report and the representation made by him was not decided. He has further claimed that the Enquiry Officer had not examined the witnesses such as handwriting expert, the customers in whose accounts the forgery was alleged to have been done. Instead irrelevant persons were examined as witnesses. He has also relied upon the judgment of Hon'ble Supreme Court in the case of Jasbir Singh versus Punjab and Sind Bank, reported as 1 SCC (L&S) 401 and claimed that since he has been acquitted by the Criminal Court, therefore, he should be reinstated with full back wages along with interest @ 24% P.A. Whether or not a fair and proper enquiry was held in the matter before the punishment was awarded to the workman has to be seen from the proceedings of the Domestic Enquiry.

I have considered the submissions made by the workman. His first allegation is that the Management produced those persons as witnesses in the enquiry who were not connected with the bank and the Enquiry Officer did not consider the objections raised by him in this regard. I have gone through whole of the enquiry proceedings, a copy of which is on record and find that there is no truth in the submission of the workman. The witnesses produced are the Senior Manager, the Head Cashier, the Special Assistants who were connected with the sections dealing in the transaction by which the workman is alleged to have committed the fraud and misappropriated a huge sum of money of the Management Bank. Other witnesses are the persons through whose accounts and under whose signatures the workman had drawn the money and misappropriated. Those account holders were not only relations of the workman, though a distant relations, but they stood to the cross-examination of the workman and clearly pointed out the finger towards the workman having committed the misconduct. Their active participation may not be ruled out but the participation of the workman in that transaction is proved by them. There is, therefore, no weight in the claim of the workman that the witnesses produced by the Management were not relevant to the enquiry proceedings. There is also no truth in his submission that the objections raised by him in that regard were not considered by the Enquiry Officer as all through the proceeding he never raised objections in this regard.

The workman next contended that he was not given the copy of the enquiry report. In paragraph Nos. 5 and 6 of his claim petition he stated that the Disciplinary Authority had sent him the copy of the enquiry report to him along with notice to which he had submitted the reply. So the workman was provided with the copy of enquiry report before filing reply to the show-cause notice. He has failed to show that as per the Bi-partite Settlements and Awards governing the services of the workman he was entitled to the enquiry report before accepting the same by the Disciplinary Authority. This claim of the workman also fails. There is also no merit in the claim of the workman that the Managements should have examined as witnesses like the handwriting expert. When those, in whose accounts the forgery had been done, admitted their signatures where was the necessity to take the assistance of the hand writing expert. It is the wrong claim of the workman that account holder in whose accounts the forgery was done were not examined as witnesses. Om Parkash and Ravinder were the account holder through whose accounts the workman is alleged to have done the transaction in swindling the money of the Management. These were the persons known to the workman and even they had opened the accounts on his introduction. Thus the proximity of the workman with them was there. The authority relied upon by the workman is not helpful to him since in that case a civil court had arrived at the conclusions that the misappropriation was not done by the employee proceeded against. But in the present case the workman was given benefit of doubt by a Criminal Court since the prosecution failed to produce the witnesses.

After going through the record of the file and the written submissions made by the parties I am of the opinion that the Management had held a fair and proper enquiry against the workman. The Enquiry Officer behaved in a most judicious manner and provided full opportunity to the workman to prove his innocence. The workman very aptly cross-examined the witnesses and choose not to produce any witness in his defence. The Enquiry Officer provided sufficient time to the workman to engage a defence representative, but he failed and finally the workman decided to put up his own defence. The enquiry officer adjourned the enquiry proceedings a number of times at the request of workman and at time when the workman despite notice did not appear although the same were opposed by the presenting Officer. In the circumstances of the case the punishment awarded to the workman is proper and cannot be said to be disproportionate since no employer would afford to retain such an employee, much less a financial institution, who would play with the trust of customer, the back bone of their business. Perhaps this may be the reason that the workman did not file appeal against the order of Disciplinary Authority. In my opinion the action of Management of Punjab National Bank in terminating the services of Shri Sukhbir Chand w.e.f. 18th of April, 1992 was just and legal as his acquittal in a Criminal Case could not change situation in his favour since the standard of proof in both the proceedings is different. The workman is, therefore, not entitled to any relief. The reference is answered against him and award is passed.

The workman is not present. He was not appearing in the case since long. The last he attended the Tribunal on 21 st of May, 2007 and sought time to produce his evidence, but on the subsequent dates neither he appeared nor produced any evidence. It was in these circumstances a notice under registered cover was directed to be issued to him vide order dated 20th of February, 2008. The notice was issued to him under postal receipt No 3679 vide this office No: 1073 on 27th of March 08. Still the workman is not present. The statutory period to presume his service is over and the registered cover carrying the notice has not been received back un-served. It gives rise to the presumption that the workman is served but he is not interested to prosecute his case. The Management is represented by Shri Amit Sharma, Advocate who appears as proxy for Mr. R. K. Sharma, Advocate.

The reference in this case was received from the Ministry of Labour, Government of India vide their No. L-42012/63/92-IR(DU) dated 24th of Sept. 1993. The Ministry has desired to know "Whether the action of the Management of Central Soil Salinity Research Institute Karnal in terminating the services of Shri Babu Ram S/o. Shri Barkha Ram w.e.f. Oct., 1985 is justified? If not what relief the workman concerned is entitled to?"

In response to the notice of reference the parties appeared. The workman filed his claim statement dated 5th of Dec., 1992, to which the Management filed reply dated 19th of Feb., 1996. In support of the reply they filed the affidavit of Shri Ronaq Ram, AAO. The Management amended their Written Statement and filed amended W/S dated 24th of August, 2004. In support thereof they filed the affidavit of Shri Tej Ram, Asstt. Admn. Officer. As against to it the workman has not produced any documentary evidence nor even his own affidavit. As stated earlier the workman has not seriously contested his case. He has hardly appeared in person and has produced no evidence to support his claim. On record there is no evidence to show that the workman was appointed as daily paid labour by the Management on D.C. rates in April, 1975 and he had served them up to April, 1980 continuously in Physiology Department. He was allowed to work during the year 1985-86 for four months. He had also worked on contract basis from April to June, 1990. The Management therefore, followed unfair labour practice and terminated the services of the workman although the post of Beldar, on which the workman was working, is still available. The Management has denied the very relationship of employee and employer between the parties.

In the absence of any evidence produced by the workman and in the circumstances when the Management has completely denied the relationship of employer and employee between the parties it cannot be said that the Management of Central Soil and Salinity Research Institute, Karnal had engaged the workman Babu Ram and they had terminated his services w.e.f. Oct., 1985. He is therefore, entitled to no relief. The reference is answered against him and the award is passed.

AWARD

The workman continues to be absent. Management appears through their representatives. It is on record that the workman is not appearing in the case since long. On the last date of hearing he was given notice under registered cover vide postal receipt No. 3678 dated 31-3-2008 to appear and filed his statement of claim. The notice so sent has not been received back unserved nor the workman is present although the statutory period of thirty days to presume the service of the workman is over. The Tribunal is therefore, satisfied that the notice of the reference has been received by the workman but he has no interest to prosecute his claim.

Vide their order No. L-23012/6/2001-IR(CM-II) dated 2nd of May, 2002, the Government of India, Ministry of Labour, referred the dispute to this Tribunal to know "Whether the action of the Management of BBMB in terminating the service of Sh. Bakhtawar Singh S/o. Sh. Ishar Singh w.e.f. 31-5-1993 is legal and justified? If not to what relief the workman is entitled to and from which date?" The record of the file speaks that the appropriate government wrongly showed the management as "The Chief Engineer (Power Wing) Generation, BBMB, Nangal, Township, Ropar whereas it should have been The Chief Engineer, Bhakra Dam, BBMB, Nangal Township, Distt Ropar. The mistake was corrected by the appropriate government vide corrigendum dated 17th of January, 2008. Thereafter the opportunity was given to the workman to file his statement of claim and the date was fixed for the purpose as 26th of March, 2008. On that date neither the workman appeared nor he filed his statement of claim. The Tribunal further showed indulgence and directed that a notice under registered cover be sent to him and as is stated above it was done but the workman has not responded which shows that he has lost interest in his case.

On record I do not find any claim but to talk of evidence to show that the Management had terminated the services of the workman Bakhtawar Singh s/o Sh. Isher Singh w.e.f. 31st of May, 1993. Therefore, to talk about the legality and justification of such an action does not arise as the very existence of it is not proved. In the circumstances the workman is not entitled to any relief. The reference is answered against him and the award is passed. Let a copy of this award be sent to the appropriate government for necessary action and the file be consigned to records after due completion.
